Subject: Richard

The court documents for Richard state he was charged for inflicting "corporal injury" to a spouse not domestic violence. This charge was reduced from a felony to a misdemeanor during the hearing. He had one other charge but it is only documented by a number, I have not been able to get anyone on the phone from the California Superior Court to find out what the charge was but the citation number is different than the number that has been associated with the initial domestic violence charge.

His most recent charge was the battery in Idaho and it was 2007 that he was arrested and 2008 that he chose to pay restitution for a non-guilty charge. Even though he was found not guilty POST sees this as a guilty charge because he chose to pay restitution to have the case dropped.
